

MORE REASONS FOR WORKING WITH ABELSON LEGAL SEARCH

ABELSON LEGAL SEARCH

If you need additional reasons as to why it makes good sense to use our services to help advance your career, please remember we:

- provide a thorough assessment to evaluate whether your skills meet prospective employers' requirements;
- review and evaluate your resume, supporting materials and personal needs;
- work with you, carefully and conscientiously, making a real investment in the process from the beginning, saving everyone time and effort;
- we know you are interested in the opening and have the required skills to do the job before you are presented;
- are dedicated to making matches that work and last;
- know that, although job boards and e-postings are widely popular, studies show that sending resumes to these anonymous sources rarely is fruitful; there is no human contact or mechanism for follow up, and, most importantly, no guarantee of confidentiality;
- personalize every step of the process - a living, breathing receptionist connects candidates with skilled recruiters;
- answer mails and job queries promptly;
- know our candidates – professional credentials, education, employment experience(s), reason(s) for job moves, and short and long-term aspirations and interests to understand their lifetime career goals and how we may provide responsive assistance;
- help you with all additional materials needed during the consideration process; for more senior attorney candidates, such materials may include a “deals summary” description of portable business and/or a projection of future business;
- offer the distinction of access to our connections (including real “movers and shakers”) in the legal community, our unparalleled knowledge of attorney and firm movements and our awareness of positions which never will be advertised;
- will continue to keep you apprised of future, relevant opportunities if one position proves not to be the best possible fit;
- know our unmatched reputation means our candidates have passed rigorous requirements; client firms and corporations unequivocally trust our sound judgment and employ our services, time after time, to find an ideal candidate; our endorsement means something;
- charge no candidate placement fee – ever!
- care about candidates and our relationships with them, and it shows.
